On June 11th, 2022, The SAC Alumni Association partnered with affiliates to host its inaugural Alumni sponsored golf tournament. This tournament is an effort to help honor and fulfill the dream and vision of past Principal and President of St. Augustine’s College, Deacon Leviticus “Unca Lou” Adderley to create a multi sports complex on St. Augustine’s College’s school’s campus.

This year's charity golf tournament was held at the Royal Blue Golf Course, at the Baha Mar Resort and Casino, Cable Beach, The Bahamas. The tournament took on a two-person scramble net score format with a minimum of seven drives per player. The cost the golf even was $500 per team.

The Multi Sports Complex is an ongoing infrastructural enhancement project designed to meet the students' needs and preparation for a modern, technological society and challenges that lie ahead. The SAC Alumni Association is partnering with St. Augustine's College and the school's Field of Dreams Fund Raising Campaign to help raise $500k dollars in order to enhance the institution's sporting facilities. The enhanced facilities will included a resurfaced track and field, a new soccer pitch and two state of the art softball fields.

Prize Results from the Unca Lou Charity Golf Tournament are as follows: Closest to the Pin #3--Sterling Quant; Closet to the Pin #7--Harry Fountain; Closest to the Pin #12--Jim LaRoda; Closest to Pin #16--Bill Casale; Longest Drive Men--Chase Newbold; Longest Drive Women--Miranda Tucker; Straightest Drive-Tiar Gibson.

Alumnae sisters donate to the Alumni Association's Educational Financial Assistance Grant

The SAC Alumni Association would like to herald and thank alumnae sisters, Kenris Johnson-Albury and Moneira Ferguson-Munnings for their recent grant donation. The sisters recently presented a check to the Alumni Association to serve as a grant that will support a current, deserving SAC student in need of financial assistance. This grant donation was given in celebration and in memory of the pair's mother; a phenomenal woman who appreciated the importance of having a St. Augustine's College education. Alumnus Apostle Valentino Williams publishes new book

The SAC Alumni Association salutes alumnus Apostle Valentino D. Williams '95 of Life Changers Ministries International for his 2nd best seller publication entitled "Take the Lead!" This publication will culminate Apostle Williams' 19th year Pastoral Anniversary. "Take The Lead!" explains and gives inspirational Biblical references on how we are the solution to the leadership dilemma in our world today.

Not too long ago, members of the Alumni Association along with members of the class of 1991 fellowshipped with Apostle Williams and his wife at their home church, Life Changers Ministries International on Bacardi Road. We were welcomed with open arms and an abundance of joy. For copies call: +1 (242) 362-1170.

Alumni Association celebrates "Unca Lou"

SOME educators come into the lives of children and leave such an impact on them, that they are never forgotten. Deacon Leviticus Lewis Joseph Adderley was one of them. As the beloved principal of St. Augustine's College for many years, he impacted the lives of countless SAC students, molding nation leaders and global influencers. Deacon Adderley was affectionately called 'Dad', 'Uncle Lou', 'Uncle', and 'Deac' by those who knew and loved him. He was a mentor to many and a friend to thousands. I had an opportunity to speak with his daughter, Daria this weekend, as the St Augustine's College Alumni Association (SACAA) gears up to host "The Unca Lou Charity Golf Tournament" on June 11. It is so encouraging to know that she is walking in her father's footsteps - using education, sports, and faith to shape the next generation.

#She is the Physical Education Teacher and Coach at SAC, where she has served for 21 years. An avid lover of soccer, Daria is actively involved in Cavalier Football Club. She is Coordinator of the Youth Programme Director of the Girls and Women's Programme. She was recently named the Head Coach of the Women's National Beach Soccer Team. With all that going on, just like her father, Daria makes time to build a strong Christian walk. She attends St Anselm's Roman Catholic Church and reads and lectures there.

"My father had a great legacy being an educator and coach," she told me. Daria Adderley, daughter of Deacon Leviticus "Uncle Lou" Adderley.

"Through these areas, he became a disciplinarian who always gave of his time and talents, looking for nothing in return. These are the attributes I am led by when it comes to me, whether teaching physical education at SAC, coaching after school sports, coaching soccer with Cavalier Football Club and coaching in the Bahamas Football Association Women's Programme."

The day we spoke, ironically I had turned off of Carmichael Road West to drive south and came across Uncle Lou Adderley Estates housing subdivision. I passed Bernard, Seton, Leonard and Alcuin Lanes. That took me down memory lane, as those are the names of the sporting houses at SAC. Uncle Lou impacted my life for the better. I am happy to have had the opportunity to come under his tutelage during the last years he spent at SAC full time, when I was still a junior high school student and all around athlete. Uncle Lou really touched people's lives in a special way. He exuded a dignified presence with a genuine smile and eyes that revealed how much he believed in each child. To us as students, he was larger than life, and a father figure we could depend on.

“He left something in people that cannot be erased,” said Cherelle Cartwright, SACAA President.

“It started out as school pride for all who attended St. Augustine’s College in New Providence, Bahamas. But every SAC student who was graced by the presence of this giant of a man was left with something even greater than pride. They were left with love.”

“He loved his students so much that he became known as ‘Unca Lou’, and became a father figure, a mentor, a teacher, a coach, and a confidante.”
Deacon Adderley loved service to God and to man.

“Uncle Lou had a vision for a multi-sports complex for SAC. The complex was to comprise a running track, softball fields and a multi-purpose gymnasium. His passing on May 24, 2003 put this dream on hold. Presently, a group of alumni whose lives he impacted, formed a committee to organize and stage the “Unca Lou” Adderley Charity Golf Tournament, which will become an annual event. Proceeds will aid funding for the completion of the complex to help make his dream a reality.”

SACAA is inviting people to register for the tournament, which is designed as a 2 person scrabble, net score tournament with a minimum of 7 drives per player. Tee off time begins with a shotgun start at 8am. Lots of prizes are in the works, including a brand new BMW or Toyota Highlander for the first hole in one on hole number 3. The event will bring together people from all walks of life in honour of Uncle Lou, Deacon Leviticus Adderley.

#Father figure of many, Uncle Lou was “Daddy” to Daria, her sister Clare, and her brother Gervase: “Life lessons my father taught me are vast. I don’t know where to start. Daddy’s unwavering love of God and trust in Him guided his life daily and through that, he had a soft demeanor, selfless of acts towards others, and he was a stern disciplinarian but yet gentle. Daddy gave his time and talent to everyone ... all walks of life he touched. Many people have said that I am his image and likeness. My father was my mentor. He was the person I vented to, bounced sporting ideas off, and listened to his advice and guidance.”

His wife of 40 years, Mrs Floridell Adderley, knew him best: “The love and dedication he had for people, and the concern for the children he taught at St Augustines and anyone he met, was strong. He would give of himself - his time, his money. He really cared for people. As for myself, we were partners. We looked out for each other. We shared everything. We came together and discussed our family and our finances. He had a humble, gentle, kind, loving heart.”

“In general, he really cared for the people of the Bahamas, especially for children,” said Mrs. Adderley, a veteran educator of more than three decades.

Since retiring, she spends her days at home, enjoying her garden, and her grandchildren. She shared with me a memorable moment of his days at SAC: "He got a car from SAC during the 25th anniversary celebration. He didn't say much but you saw it (the excitement) in his eyes."

In addition to his formidable impact on students at St Augustine's for decades, he also impacted thousands of young people in The Bahamas wherever he came into contact with them.

His legacy had a home to take root in when in 1945, St Augustine College was established by the Benedictine Monks of St. John's Abbey in Collegeville, Minnesota. By 1950, Leviticus "Lou" Adderley was its top student. He went on to St John's University where he excelled as student and top athlete. Academically, he obtained a Bachelor's Degree in Mathematics while athletically, he set NCAA and school records in Greco Roman wrestling and tennis.

He completed his studies and returned to his alma mater as teacher/ coach and later became the principal, retiring in 1991. He was dearly loved by his students and was called "Unca Lou" by all. The name Lou "Unca Lou" Adderley became synonymous with the institution. In addition to his extensive impact on SAC, he was also one of the founding members of BAISS (independent school sports) that initially enabled quality competition and socializing between secondary schools.

Nationally, it is understood that his greatest fluency was his unbridled mastery of himself, as a builder of men, coach of champions, professor of scholars, and protector of his faith.

I asked Daria what she would do if she could spend one more day with this giant of a man: "Oh, to spend one more day with him would make my world! I would like to show him through my various interests how his gentle and selfless acts have guided my life and my sports. I would want him to meet especially the Cavalier girls I coach to see how I have mentored them and how they are growing into great individuals no matter their circumstances. Finally, to spend the day with his granddaughter and grandson, whose personality and style are so much of him. Every day he is missed, but I know he is looking down on me and smiling at the person I have become. It is because of him that I am the person I am today."

SACAA LADIES DOING IT IN STYLE

We pride ourselves in being the best...the best in any arena or class or sphere. SAC has always been known for beautiful girls. No matter the year, they remain undaunted with their flawless beauty and incomparable style. Whether glamming up for a “whatever you wanna call it” party, or casually catching up; they are a treat for sore eyes! Some notable years shared with us pics from their various events.

CLASS OF '73

While some may need a specific occasion the belles of '73 need none to come together. Like fine wine these ageless beauties celebrate the “joie de vivre”. They say time is short so kick back relax and enjoy all that life has to offer!

CLASS OF '80

Featured below are two belles who celebrated their 60th milestone birthday. Their black ain't cracking no time soon. These ladies make 60 look like the new 40's!

Bonaventure Culmer brought in her 60th with some classmates as well as friends who are near and dear to her heart. The older one gets, one truly learns to appreciate the ones that mean the most. Dr. Kim Scriven also celebrated her birthday in glam style complimented with a diva photoshoot on at the Queen's bath, Eleuthera and a formal affair complete with the works. Both ladies spared no expense. One point of note, in Dr. Kim Scriven's picture...alumni across the we see alumni across the years from the 70's, 80's, 90's and 00's plus represented.

CLASS OF '89

Never to be outdone the class of '89 take pride in the close bond they have fostered among themselves. SACAA Assistant Secretary Ms. Anastacia Brown celebrated her 50th birthday and what an emotional event that was. She certainly is living her life like it's golden, as should we all. Pictured below are classmates still riding hard together. After all there is no time like the present.

Dear readers this is what it is all about. The legacy of The Great St. Augustine's College your family that isn't blood related but family none the less. We bleed red, #loored we are ONE!
